

HIS RIDING SAVED HIM

In Hunt Club Meet, Mr. Hobson
Forced to Brilliant Exhibition.

CELEBRATION DELIGHTFUL

New Year's Day Marked by a Splendid Meet of Members and Guests—Personal.

New Year's Day was celebrated at the Hunt Club in a most fitting and delightful way, and every one of the many guests and members left, feeling assured that 1904 held every prospect of brightness and pleasure for the Hunt Club. The day opened soft and balmy, an ideal day for outdoor life, but rather too "greasy" under foot to make the going good. The hunt started from Chestnut Hill, and covered the five miles from there to the Hunt Club, including the breaks, in thirty minutes. The pace was fast, and the field was a fine one. The endurance to keep in sight of the hounds. Some of the new hounds of the club were out yesterday for the first time, and the eight couples which constituted the pack, ran beautifully bunched, and hunted in perfect form. The field was one of the largest of the season.

HORSE BOLTED AWAY.

When near the Seminary, Mr. Graffered Hobson's horse, "Seven Up," became suddenly and uncontrollably unmanageable, and bolted away at full speed. The horse had gone perfectly quietly all the rest of the hunt, but on this occasion he seemed to lose his head entirely, and ran a mile and a half before he was brought under control. The hounds, however, did not seem to be disturbed by the incident, and the hunt continued. The horse, after taking the jumps perfectly quietly, "Seven Up" again seemed to lose his head completely and bolted straight at the Hunt Club fence.
The high, iron, and stone fence, which is at that point five feet high, the fence is one that requires clean jumping, since it is made of woven wire, and a blunder would mean a broken neck.
Mr. Hobson put his horse straight at it, and took it in grand style, and though both horse and rider were shaken, the horse's head, and only then was it possible to stop him.

Mr. Hobson received universal congratulations on his nerve and skill, which allowed him from what would have been a very serious accident.
Those who did not hunt were delighted to find upon their arrival that the club had been beautifully decorated with holly, smilax and wreaths and horseshoes of red flowers and green leaves, and though the hall and veranda were crowded with a stuffed red fox, attracted special attention and praise. A handsome breakfast was served in the dining-room and the punch bowls, which were filled with apple today and eggs tomorrow, were filled with punch. The gathering at the club was one of the most fashionable and delightful of the year.

YEAR'S FIRST DAY.

Was Balmey and Beautiful and Delightful, But Quietly Observed.

The New Year of 1904 began peacefully and quietly in Richmond.
Services were held yesterday in all the Catholic Churches of the city. The occasion was observed as a holy day of obligations with masses. At the Cathedral Father Magr preached an eloquent sermon on the text, "Whosoever Ye Do, Do it unto the Lord." A New Year's greeting to the congregation, and appeal for a spiritual awakening of the indifferent members of the faith.

GOING TO ST. LOUIS.

Captains Baker and Marye to Arrange Virginia Building.

Captain P. Thornton Marye, the well known Newport News architect, is in the city, and he and Captain W. V. Baker, of Chesterfield, who is one of the assistant commissioners on the part of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, are preparing to go to St. Louis to arrange for the construction of the State building, which is to be a reproduction of "Monticello," the home of Jefferson.

Captain Marye has made the plans as his contribution to the Virginia exhibit, and it is proposed to go forward with the work with all possible speed.
The success of the Virginia exhibit seems now practically assured, and those in charge are working incessantly, with very bright prospects for a creditable showing.

FAITHFUL OFFICER.

Captain Frank Cunningham Is Ready for Settlement.

Captain Frank W. Cunningham, collector of city taxes, was in his office all day yesterday, in order to accommodate those who had not already paid their taxes. He took in considerable money, and while his business was a clerical one, it was one of the most important of the last day's work, he will today pay over to the auditor $100.00, representing the final day's transactions.
The people generally have paid up promptly, though, of course, there are a few delinquents. Captain Cunningham was not required to keep his office open yesterday, but did so voluntarily, and in order to save the five per cent. penalty to his constituents.

WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION

was represented for the first time in the line of diplomats. Last year it was Cuba; this, the Republic of Panama.
At 11 o'clock a fanfare of trumpets announced the opening of the reception, and the approach of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The President, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, entering Mrs. Roosevelt, descended the main staircase and passed to the blue parlor, where the guests were received.
The members of the receiving party were arranged in the array of a circle in the blue window of the blue room, the guests invited to assist in the reception facing them behind the line. Both the President and Mrs. Roosevelt were particularly gracious in the greeting of their callers. The President frequently took with a friend, and Mrs. Roosevelt entered into the affair with evident enjoyment. President Roosevelt was attired in a conventional frock suit.

First to be received were the members of the diplomatic corps. All of the ambassadors and ministers were accompanied by their entire suites. As dean of the corps, Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador and master of the Imperial Court, occupied the position of honor at the head of the line. Mr. T. S. Underwood and Sir Henry Durand made their first new year's calls at the White House as ambassadors. In all thirty-five countries of the world were represented at the reception.

Following the diplomatic corps, the members of the United States Supreme Court, headed by Chief Justice Fuller, were received. The reception of members of Congress began at 11:30 o'clock. Comparatively few were in attendance, usually of the senators and representatives not returned.

Military Contingent.

Resplendent in full dress uniforms, the military contingent followed the congressmen. The contingent was made up of officers, active and retired, of the army, navy and marine corps, and the District of Columbia National Guard. For the first time at a reception, the army was led by officers of the general staff. Lieutenant-General Young, who last year was major-general, and in the absence of General Miles, who was on tour of duty in the East, was the senior officer in Washington leading the line, to-day again occupied that position, wearing the three stars and the title of chief of staff. For the first time the new uniform of officers of the army was seen to its best effect.

Following the army, were officers of the navy, headed by Admiral Dewey, who was absent from Washington last New Year's Day, conducting the winter manoeuvres of the navy in the Caribbean.
The officers of the marine corps followed the navy. Following the military was the civilian contingent of the government service and members of various patriotic orders.

At 12 o'clock the reception of citizens, hundreds of whom had been waiting in line for several hours. The line of people entered the north door of the White House, passed across the vestibule and main corridor, through the red room to the blue room, where the guests of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt were received.

Precautions for Safety.

Several precautions were taken to insure the personal safety of the President. No person was permitted to approach the President with his hands in his pockets or otherwise concealed. An extra force of

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—R. G. Dun and day will say:

"Violent fluctuations in cotton and uncertainty regarding the situation in the East were the only significant factors in the business situation during the holiday week. Numerous expressions of confidence were heard from the future, however, especially at the West and South. Manufacturing plants have taken a longer vacation than usual, and the resumption of work on Monday.
Textile mills are confronted with a lack of proportion between prices of raw material and finished products, and it is evident that costs of production will be increased. The only saving factor machinery will become idle. Transportation lines are well engaged in handling grain, live stock, and other goods. The winter season of the last year, which exceeded the previous year an average of augmented unsettled conditions, especially as to cotton goods. In response to the fact that the week of the last year, which

WANT INFORMATION.

State Board of Health Inquires as to Consumption.

The November bulletin of the State Board of Health of Virginia has been issued, and the opening article is an appeal from the Board for information on the subject of consumption. The board is interested in the consumption of tobacco and alcohol, and is anxious to know the consumption of these articles in the State.
The board is also interested in the consumption of opium and other narcotics, and is anxious to know the consumption of these articles in the State.

A return stamped envelope was enclosed in each letter and so far only about one-third have been replied.

The board is anxious to submit its report to the General Assembly, which meets on January 13th, and those who have not yet replied are earnestly urged to do so at once.
